

September 2025

Dear Friends,

When the weather starts to turn a bit nippy, there are two things you can count on: pumpkin spice everything in the stores and a letter from us with the coffee hour schedule for the fall. We hope that you will once again be willing to take your turn hosting, providing coffee and treats (and cleaning up afterward) on a specific Sunday.

We have enclosed a list assigning each family to a date through December—later in the year we will circulate a schedule for the ‘second semester.’ As usual, we’ve enclosed an instruction sheet describing procedures for setting up and cleaning up. The schedule and checklist will also be posted in the kitchen and on the website.

If you find you are unable to host coffee hour on your assigned day, please find a replacement. (It will probably be easiest to switch with someone else on the list.) If you have a problem, email or phone one of us.

We appreciate your participation in providing refreshments, but please remember that hosting duties also include setting up before and especially cleaning up after coffee hour!

With many thanks to everyone for pitching in,

Sincerely,

Sally and Carol
